Role of education	What is International Day of Educatio	n? Why does it matter? -Rayyan Rizwan
In peace and development	International day of education is celebrated on the 24th of January this year and it is impostant to be celebrated as students are taught about the conditions. And how does one achieve education from another place which may not be that prospessous as our countries you might ask? Well on this day we also beam about the 4th goal of the UII "Quality Education" This goat affects education as its aim is to give quality education to evenyone by 2030, Because of	In 2020, UR released a antide titled "Quality Education: Uby matters." It told us in that, in 2018, about 258 Million you childhurn had NOT Geen in a school on had proper academic education following that, it stated that it was one fifth of the population of the age group. Education matters as it teaches one to getting out of power (if they are in powenty) and helps them contailate to our society a help it go upwands. It also neduces many inequalities if childhen a taught about it and is impostant to help kids understand tolenance.
